

Global move information, at your fingertips, whenever you want it

GlobalComSM desktop move management lets you keep track of your belongings, wherever they are in the world, with the click of a mouse.

North American's GlobalComSM move management tracking system is taking the moving industry in an exciting new direction. GlobalComSM is an advanced, integrated household goods move tracking system that makes important move information easily accessible to you using any computer with Internet access. With GlobalComSM, you get 24/7 secure access to updated information about your move via a single, simple computer interface, so you always know the location of your possessions.

North American GlobalComSM makes your move go smoothly, keeping you worry-free. It integrates enhanced communications with simplified management tools, making it easy to access tracking data and other important move information, such as shipment status, move notes and profiles of your new country.

By helping you feel involved throughout your move, North American GlobalComSM takes the guessing and anxiety out of international moves, ensuring you and your family have a positive moving experience.

North American GlobalComSM gives you access to the status of your move, every step of the way.
